

Eleanor Anne Sweet is an 18 year expert of organizational management improvement. She has studied success and leadership and its effect on organizations that range from privately held organizations to major Fortune 500 corporations. She has spent the majority of her professional career helping the best and brightest executive professionals in America create more positive impact to their companies' bottom line.

Eleanor has been quoted in the Wall Street Journal, other newspapers, major trade journals, radio, TV and additional publications. She has authored four books. Her two newest books are, Success Secret #1(December 2013) and Success Secret #2 (January 2014). Her fifth book, Leading to Success - The Female Advantage, will be published the end of 2015.

Sweet was recently awarded Women of Distinction - Lake County and nominated for the ATHENA International Leadership Award.

Eleanor Anne Sweet has an MBA (Executive Master Program) from Kellogg Graduate School of Management at Northwestern University. She received her undergraduate degree from Boston College with a B.S. in Marketing.

Eleanor's corporate professional career was with GE Lighting and Salton in a new product and sales management capacities.

Sweet is President and CEO of Corporate Success Partners, a Division of The Remington Group, an organizational training and consulting firm that specializes in "no nonsense" solutions and results.

For the past two years, Eleanor has been involved as a mentor/coach with the BHS Incubator Program, which supports small business startups locally.

To find out more about Eleanor's workshops, training, coaching, books and audio training programs, or to inquire about Eleanor's availability as a speaker or trainer, you can contact her office at:

Phone: 847-577-2000

Email: sweet@CorporateSuccessPartners.com